National Starch, Indianapolis, IN has established their premiums for non-GMO waxy corn for the 2012 growing season. Premiums will be $.80 - $.95 per bushel depending upon delivery date. This is an increase of $.10 compared to one year ago.

We have a tremendous lineup of non-GMO waxy hybrids this year and our market share in the Indianapolis market continues to grow. National Starch will no longer grow high amylose corn in the Indianapolis market so there could be opportunity for additional acres of non-GMO waxy.
